Disappeared After Hitting
Arch On Main Street
In Amboy

Speeding north of state highway, route 2, at about 3:45 this morning, an Iowa alcohol runner came to grief at the intersection with Main street in Amboy, when his heavily-laden car skidded on the wet paving and crashed into the west supporting pier of the arch which spans the highway. The large quantity of alcohol in one-gallon tin cans forced the front seat of the car forward and the driver is believed to have suffered severe injuries.

Extricating himself from the wrecked car he left the scene and shortly after apparently abandoned Amboy for parts unknown. Leaving his valuable load of Fourth of July cheer standing as it had suddenly stopped and the new Buick sedan badly wrecked.

Officer Wayne Smith, night police at Amboy, heard the crash while he was attending the engines at the pumping station three blocks from the scene. Others were awakened by the noise of the crash. The driver limped from his wrecked machine and awakened Robert Snooks of the Amboy fire department and then disappeared. Officer Smith notified Sheriff Ward Miller who went to the scene of the crash at 5 o'clock this morning and took charge of the cargo of alcohol.

Called Clinton 'Phone.

Upon his arrival at Amboy, Sheriff Miller learned that the driver had placed a telephone call for a Clinton, Iowa number but had been unsuccessful in communicating with the persons. In placing the call he gave the name of Martin. He waited but a very few minutes after finding that he could not arouse the Clinton number and disappeared. It was reported to the Sheriff that the Iowa had secured a ride in an automobile which hurried him away from the scene of the crash.

The car, an almost new Buick five passenger sedan bearing license plates issued at Clinton, was heavily loaded with the one-gallon tins filled with alcohol, apparently enroute from LaSalle county to Clinton. From all indications the car was being driven at a high rate of speed as it entered the business district of Amboy. Tracks on the paving indicated that the wheels had been slid about 75 feet before the crash. It was raining at the time, which made the paving slippery.

The fact that the car struck head on against the west supporting pier of the arch prevented it from crashing into the front display windows of the Boynton-Richards clothing store. Sheriff Miller had the wrecked car and its cargo taken to the county jail where a search warrant was obtained and the supply of alcohol unloaded and placed in a cell. Sheriff Cook at Clinton was notified and an effort was being made to locate the driver of the alcohol car, which will be confiscated and sold, according to Sheriff Miller.

Clinton Alderman
Hit By Polo Auto

Alderman Louis Bergman of Clinton, Iowa, was cut about the head and bruised about the body Saturday evening about 10 o'clock when he was hit and knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. Patrick McMahon of Polo on North Galena avenue near Everett street. A hurried call for physicians and an ambulance was received at the police station and police hurried to the scene. The alderman was taken on to Clinton by friends without receiving attention here.

Several members of the Clinton city council were returning home in several cars from Milwaukee and other points where they had been inspecting garbage incinerating plants. The car in which Bergman was driving stopped opposite the Prescott service station and the alderman stepped out to walk across the street to the rest room. He had taken only a few steps when the Polo car struck him and knocked him down. A physician who accompanied the Clinton city officials administered first aid.

HUNTER BROTHERS BREAK OLD
ENDURANCE RECORD BY OVER
THIRTY HOURS AND KEEP ONThousands Watch the Young Aviators Setting Endurance Mark

Chicago, June 30.—(AP)—The Hunter boys fly on. High in the air above Sky Harbor at 12:40 P. M., Central Standard time, today they flew through their 453rd hour and kept the "City of Chicago" nosed toward the Fourth of July and at least 23 days of continuous flying.

Already they have eclipsed the world's record for such a flight by 33 hours.

On the ground watching with admiring eyes, as were so many thousand others, was the rest of the Hunter family—three of them a part of the flight—all of them from Sparata, Ill.

John and Kenneth pilot the big Stinson-Detroit endurance plane and flight of Morpheus. Walter and Albert, with "Big Men," furnish liaison between the ground and the record breakers.

Irene cooks the food that Walter and Albert take aloft for John and Kenneth. Mama watches.

The 167th refueling contact was made at 8:40 o'clock this morning.

A note to cheer the record breakers on was an offer of $100 for every hour they will be in the air after 6 P. M. yesterday. It came from the president of the company whose products have fueled the plane. At noon today they had earned $3,000 on it.

For breakfast this morning Irene sent John and Kenneth hard-boiled eggs, jelly sandwiches, a pint of orange juice, toast and a gallon jug of water.

The flight at 1:40 had consumed 6,270 gallons of gasoline and 285 gallons of oil.

Three Killed In Crash At Capital

Springfield, Ill., June 30.—(UP)—A triple inquest will be held here Thursday in the deaths of three persons who were killed Saturday morning when the plane in which they were riding crashed into a railroad embankment south of Springfield. The dead are: Emmerson Lawyer, and his brother Norman, both of Springfield; and J. P. Shoemaker of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The accident, which was the first fatal airplane crash ever recorded here, is believed to have been caused by a tailspin into which the plane dropped after losing altitude as Shoemaker was attempting a landing. Inspectors of the aeronautics branch of the United States Department of Commerce conducted an investigation into the crash yesterday, but left the city without offering any suggestions as to the cause of the accident.

Heavy Rain And Hail
In Central Illinois

Springfield, Ill., June 30.—(UP)—Slight damage to crops in central Illinois was believed to have been caused today by heavy rain and hail which fell throughout this section. The storm which was accompanied by blinding flashes of lightning, began late last night, and made driving of highways almost impossible. A number of automobiles were reported to have skidded from the pavements and some were said to have turned over, but no injuries were reported.

George DeWitt, a 12-year-old youth, was drowned in Salt Creek near Mason City, yesterday afternoon when he slipped from the back of his uncle, Roy Miller, who was attempting to swim across the stream with him.

Continued thundershowers, accompanied by cooler weather was the forecast for today.

"NICKEL" BANDIT FOUND DEAD

RACKETEERING
BY REPORTER IS
HINT OF BOARD

Evidence Indicates Murdered Man Had Much
With Gangsters

Chicago, June 29.—(UP)—A public review by a special "Board of Strategy" of reports that Alfred "Jake" Lingle, slain Chicago Tribune reporter, was engaged extensively in racketeering did not tend today to slow up the search for his slayer.

"The murder of this reporter, even for racketeering purposes, as the evidence indicates it may have been, made a breach in the wall which criminality has so long maintained about its operations here," said the Tribune, Lingle's employer, editorially.

"That he is not a soldier dead in the discharge of his duty is unfortunate considering that he is dead. It is of no consequence to an inquiry determined to discover why he was killed, by whom killed and with what attendant circumstances."

While squads of Chicago policemen yesterday raided resorts near Burlington, Wis., searching for James "Red" Forsythe, who police believe was the man hired to shoot Lingle to death in an Illinois Central subway, details were published here of how the $65-a-week reporter enjoyed for almost three years an income of at least $60,000 a year by using his position to "borrow" money from gangsters and city officials.

The special board of strategy which published the detailed report of Lingle's alleged racketeering is headed by Charles Rathburn, Tribune lawyer, who was sworn in as a Special Assistant Prosecutor to seek out the slayer.

Lingle, it was revealed, had led the men with whom he worked to believe that he had inherited a small fortune, thus explaining his apparent wealth. He also, it was said, often borrowed money from fellow members of his staff, leading them to believe any rumors that he was racketeering were falsehoods started by his personal enemies.

The policemen who conducted the raids yesterday in Wisconsin returned to Chicago convinced, they said, that if Forsythe had been hiding in any of the roadhouses there he escaped before they arrived.

DIXONITES IN BAD ACCIDENT
WHILE TOURINGL. E. Edwards Suffered
Broken Hip: Wife,
Daughter Hurt

Lewis E. Edwards of this city is in the St. Mary's hospital at Knoxville, Tenn., suffering from a fracture of the hip and other injuries, and Mrs. Edwards and daughter, Miss Helen, are also patients there, suffering from cuts and bruises, the result of a serious automobile accident last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and daughter were enjoying a vacation motor trip through Tennessee and were enroute from Greenville to Knoxville when the crash occurred.

Driving along one of the main highways through the Tennessee mountains, a car suddenly swerved from a side road and struck the Edwards car, turning it over and practically demolishing the machine. Mrs. Edwards and daughter were in the front seat and Mr. Edwards was in the rear when the accident occurred. The force of the collision threw him about in the car in such a way that he struck on his hip, the fracture resulting. Mrs. Edwards and daughter Miss Helen sustained minor injuries and were suffering from shock. All were taken in other cars to the St. Mary's hospital at Knoxville.

Winston Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, received word this morning from the members of the family, stating that Mr. Edwards would be confined in the hospital for a period of at least six weeks. The fracture has been reduced, the latter stated and the hip placed in a plaster cast.

Famous Pure
Food Advocate
Died This Morn

ASSOCIATED PRESS (UNDERWOOD)
HARVEY W. WILEY

Militant fighter for protection of people against impure foods, for many years chief chemist for the Department of Agriculture and as such the center of many bitter controversies, died at his home in Washington, D. C., this morning at the age of 85.

WILEY, NOTED ADVOCATE FOR
PURE FOOD, DEADFamous Scientist Was In Control of Govt.
Agency for Years

Washington, June 30.—(AP)—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, noted pure food advocate, died today.

He had been suffering from heart trouble for the past two months at his home. He was 85 years old. Dr. Wiley died shortly after 2 A. M.

When Dr. Harvey Washington Wiley became chief chemist of the department of Agriculture in 1883 and took charge of the little cubby-hole laboratory in the basement of which the present far-reaching federal agency developed, probably he did not know that he was embarking on a 30-years-war of his own. But 30 years brim full of battle and controversy under the "pure food" slogan began for him that day; conflicts that were to demand repeatedly action by the President himself, and to end only when, vindicated and upheld by President Taft in his last clash, the scientist resigned after stubbornly refusing to be kicked out of the federal service.

There are a score of bloodless but bitter battles, history of which might be written on Dr. Wiley's honorable discharge from the official pure food army. There was the famous "what is whiskey" campaign in 1907 which revolved around him as the storm center; the "battle of Benzoin" of 1909, which still was rumbling in 1909, and finally the "Board of Personnel Offensive" in 1911. The board, in what was known as the Dr. Wiley case, recommended that Dr. Wiley "be permitted to resign."

Secretary Wilson, of the Agriculture Department, and Attorney General Wickensham approved the board's report, but President Taft sustained Dr. Wiley and praised his work.

Then only did the scientist tender his resignation because of "irreconcilable" differences with his superiors and the consciousness of an "essentially insupportable" official environment. That was in 1912 and President Taft having expressed regret at his retirement, Dr. Wiley turned to the more peaceful pursuits of contributing editor of a national monthly magazine that dealt with food problems for the home.

Dr. Wiley was born in Kent, Ind., Oct. 18, 1844, and Hanover College of that state was his alma mater, although Indiana Medical College, Harvard and Vermont later awarded

SLAYERS OF CHICAGO THUG
SHOW CONTEMPT BY PUTTING
FIVE-CENT PIECE IN HANDKilling Not Connected With Murder of Alfred Lingle

Chicago, June 30.—(AP)—As authorities began the third week of their inquiry into Alfred "Jake" Lingle's slaying, a new gang killing confronted them today with the death of Michael Gallichio, west-side hoodlum and beer hustler for Joseph "Red" Bolton's gang. It was the second gang slaying since orders were issued to clean out gangsters following Lingle's death.

Shot nine times, Gallichio was found dead along a lonely stretch of highway southwest of Chicago. In his hand was a nickel indicating his slayers marked him as a cheap racketeer.

The killing apparently had been done at the spot where the body was found. Several empty .45 caliber shots were picked up around the spot.

For some time, police thought the killing had perhaps avenged the Chicago Tribune reporter's slaying, until the body was identified as Gallichio. The victim wore a belt buckle bearing the initial "F." and police at first thought the hoodlum might have been "Red" Forsythe, named as Lingle's killer, or Frankie Foster, Al Capone henchman, who bought the revolver found beside Lingle. A check of the fingerprints, however, identified the body as Gallichio's.

The killing apparently took place early last evening but the body was not found until today. The ground beneath the body was dry indicating the shooting occurred before last night's rain.

Gallichio, according to police, had been known as a beer runner and hickler, and authorities could conceive of numerous motives for the slaying, none of which seemed to link the shooting with the Lingle assassination three weeks ago today.

HOLD-UP THUG KILLED

Chicago, June 30.—(UP)—A bandit, identified as John Brent, was fatally wounded today when he engaged a west side radio shop proprietor in a gun duel during a holdup.

Leroy Pestlin, owner of the store, was wounded in the right arm as he exchanged shots with the holdup man who, with another robber, shortly before had entered the shop and bound Pestlin and a customer. When Pestlin wriggled loose and seized a revolver one of the bandits took $170 from the cash register and escaped. The other stayed behind to fight it out. He was shot in the chest and afterward died at the Bridewell hospital.

Franklin Lad Found
Injured In Pasture

Robert Ramsdell, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramsdell of near Franklin Grove, was rushed to the Dixon public hospital last evening about 6 o'clock suffering from concussion of the brain and deep cuts about the face and head. The boy was unconscious for several hours and at noon today members of the family and hospital attendants had been unable to ascertain in what way he had been injured. It was supposed, however, that he had been kicked in the head by a horse.

About 5:30 last evening the boy went to the pasture to drive the cows to the barn. A short time after his departure, his father heard moaning and going to the pasture found the boy lying unconscious and bleeding on the ground. He picked him up and he was placed in an automobile which was passing the Ramsdell home at the time and rushed to the Dixon hospital. His condition this afternoon was reported to be greatly improved.

Fargo Man Killed
Sitting In Auto

Fargo, N. D., June 29.—(UP)—Sheriff Mark Andrews said here today that he believed a demented person, influenced by the recent maniac slayings in New York, was responsible for the death of Leif Erickson, Fargo.

Erickson was sitting in his automobile with Miss Vera Helgeson in a city park when a man appeared, pointed a revolver at Erickson and ordered him to hold up his hands.

As Erickson complied, the headlights of another car flashed upon the bandit, who fired, killing Erickson, and escaped.

Teeth Replace
Ears In Hearing
By This Machine

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.

Associated Press Science Editor.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 30.—(AP)—The teeth were substituted in hearing for the ears in an invention exhibited today at the home of Dr. Frederick Bedell, Professor of Physics at Cornell University.

The Professor's guests appeared to sip their music through straws, as they listened to a phonograph, the sound of which was inaudible to the ears. The seeming straws were long pieces of wood, with sharp, pencil-like points. The listeners placed the sharp points on a tiny metal disc on a round, cloth-covered ball the size of a big flat, that concealed the mechanism of the invention.

The metal disc was a special receiver for the deaf, transmitting its inaudible vibrations to the wood. By biting the other end of the stick lightly the listeners could hear, and to two of the auditors, at least, the music sounded as perfect as when audible to the ear.

Professor Bedell said he perfected the device in hope that it will be useful for the deaf in listening to talks and radio. The receiver would be placed on the backs of seats and the straw-like sticks would cost but a trifle. They are ordinary wood. The sound vibrations pass directly to the auditory nerves through the bones. No ear drums are needed. Professor Bedell said that only destruction of the auditory nerves prevents hearing by the teeth method.

Plane Columbia
Made Long Flight

Valley Stream, N. Y., June 30.—The monoplane Columbia, veteran of a trans-Atlantic flight and once holder of a world's endurance record, had another exploit for her credit today, a non-stop flight to Bermuda and back. Roger G. Williams, a trans-Atlantic pilot, and Errol Boyd, steering the Columbia by the navigation of Harry E. Connor, hopped off from Roosevelt Field at 4:01 A. M. (E. S. T.) yesterday, found the speck of an island 800 miles away, circled above it in a tropical downpour, then headed back, landing at Curtiss Field at 9:03 P. M.

The flight to the island required 9 hours and 19 minutes, the plane arriving over Hamilton at 1:20 P. M. The return flight was made in seven hours, 43 minutes.

The fliers said the had no trouble in finding the island although they were troubled with fog part of the way.

Two Army Aviators

Mitchell Field, N. Y., June 30.—(AP)—Captain Albert E. Flood and Lieutenant Benjamin Berkowitz, Army Reserve pilots, were killed in the crash of their training plane yesterday.

The plane fell 100 feet, hurtled across a highway and carried away a section of a 12-foot iron fence.

ROCKFORD MAN WAS KILLED SUNDAY

HE WATCHED STORM IN PINES PARK

Leroy Daily, aged 31, employed by the Western Electric Company at Rockford, was killed instantly Sunday morning about 9:30 at the Pines State Park, when struck by a bolt of lightning. Daily accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schroder and children and a Miss Smith, all of Rockford, of the Pines to spend the day. About 9:30 he was standing on the bluff overlooking the park when a storm passed over.

Mr. Schroder was the first to discover his absence from the party and

TRUCKED AWAY
$200,000 WORTH
BONDED LIQUORSOfficers Believe the Raid
May Have Been By
Capone Gang

Chicago, June 30.—(AP)—Fifteen gunmen held control of a government warehouse for three hours last night and trucked away whiskeys, brandies and alcohol, the value of which may exceed $200,000.

Included in the liquor stored in the two-story warehouse were 430 cases of bonded whiskey shipped to Chicago from Jacksonville, Fla., presumably by agents of Al Capone, and seized by federal agents.

The possibility that the raid on the warehouse last night was by Capone gangsters seeking to recover the seized liquor, is being investigated.

Watchman Bound.
Paul Perry, night watchman, was alone when four men, each carrying a large can, appeared at the entrance. Perry thought they were Federal prohibition agents bringing more liquor for storage, and he admitted them. Gun barrels were poked against his side and he was bound, gagged and blindfolded. The gang leader then admitted the others, and the three-hour job of waiting trucks was begun.

The raid on the warehouse did not end until shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. At least three truck loads were taken away, a hurried inspection revealed.

The raid came at the close of E. C. Yellowey's regime as prohibition administrator in this district. His successor, T. J. Herbert declared early today that he had not been advised of the raid.

Outlook Is Gloomy
For Gov't Finances

Washington, June 30.—(AP)—The close of the fiscal year of 1930 at midnight tonight will find a surplus of approximately $200,000,000 in the coffers of the government and gloomy predictions prevalent for the year of 1931.

At the close of business on Thursday a total of $4,151,057,206 had been collected and $3,938,536,837 spent leaving a favorable margin of $212,520,660. No large payments were in sight for the closing days of the year.

In opposing the enactment of the Johnson-Rankin veterans' relief bill Secretary Mellon said present indications pointed to a deficit a year from now. Appropriations for the coming year aggregate about $4,500,000,000, a sum greater than the estimated government revenue.

Of the present surplus $100,000,000 is the result of foreign debtor nations making their June 15 payments in cash instead of government securities. A sharp spurt in customs receipts also influenced the total.

The surplus at the close of the fiscal year of 1929 was $185,000,000.

Los Angeles Fliers
Claim World Records

Los Angeles Cal., June 30.—(UP)—One Los Angeles aviator today claimed a new world record and another awaited recognition from Washington of what he believed also would prove to be a new inter-national mark.

Gordon F. Munce, said to be the first flyer ever to make an outside loop in a small motor plane, yesterday took his tiny ship 7,000 feet into the air and executed a series of 22 of these difficult loops, four more than the previous record held by Tex Rankin.

The other aviator who believed he had set a record was Bert Whitten, stunt flyer and parachute jumper, who jumped Sunday from a height of more than 23,000 feet.

The body was taken to Polo where coroner J. C. Aiken conducted an inquest Sunday afternoon. The jury returning a verdict finding that death was due to being struck by a bolt of lightning. In marching out of the Rhineland today the French army turned back to Germany full control of the occupied territory.
There were a half million troops along the Rhine after the armistice, French, Belgian, British, Italian and American but as other nations withdrew and the zones were evacuated the Army of Occupation dwindled to about 25,000 men these last few months.

EVACUATION OF

Wiesbaden, Germany, June 30—(AP)—The Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission today closed up shop, hauled down the French and British flags over their headquarters, and left Germany. So ended the Commission's long career, at one period of which it ruled the destinies of 15,000,000 Germans in the occupied territories.

The streets of Wiesbaden and Mayence were alive from early morning with peasants who arrived in carts, automobiles and afoot to witness final departure of the French and to participate in the celebration which was scheduled to begin when they had gone.

Striking of the French colors and departure of the Commission was carried out with a brief military ceremony in the presence of a silently watching crowd of Germans. Not until the soldiers were marching out behind the cars of the commissioners on their way toward Mayence did the silence of the populace lift and give way to excited buzz of conversation. It was a very quiet goodbye.

EARMARKS

How do I know that June is here?
Oh, by this and that—
Susannah Morrow wore today
A flowered leghorn hat.

Frogs relayed the gossip,
Thrushes told the news—
Then, too, when Polly Porter passed
I noticed her red shoes.

How do I know that June is here?
Why, not a sign is missing—
Children's mouths strawberry-stained
Two young lovers kissing.

And could I tell no other way
I would observe folk's noses—
Their tilt in June betrays the fact
That they are smelling roses.

"For ten years I suffered from kidney trouble, gas pains, constipation and nervousness, and never found a thing that brought relief until I tried Kavatone," said Mrs. Mary Gardner, of 310 East Hart Street, Bay City, Mich. "Everytime I ate anything, gas would form in my stomach, and many times it would press upon my heart so bad that I felt I would not be able to get my breath."

"My daughter was taking Kavatone and felt so much better that she induced me to try this medicine. It hardly seems possible that one medicine could bring about the wonderful results that Kavatone has. Since taking this medicine I am no longer bothered at all with any of my former ailments, I can eat anything I wish without any bad after effects, my kidneys are in a normal condition, and I have gained in weight. Is it any wonder that I am so enthusiastic about Kavatone?"

Kavatone works hand in hand with nature in eliminating poisons and impurities from the system, thus striking at the very root of such ailments as rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, and stomach, liver and kidney trouble.

Kavatone is sold by all the best druggists in Dixon, Ill., and all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MOTORISTS AND FREIGHT TRAINS.

A New Jersey motorist named Ludwig Lanther was driving along a highway the other day when he came to a grade crossing blocked by a lengthy freight train which had stopped there and apparently had no intention of moving on again. Mr. Lanther stood it for quite a while. Then he got out and uncoupled two of the cars. Presently the train started up, slowly. Because it had been uncoupled an opening appeared, and Mr. Lanther sped through it and went on his way.

Now the gentleman is being held on charges of violating a state law relating to freight trains; but he protests what he did was justified, and he'll probably get the sympathy of a great many motorists. Any driver who has had to fret and fume by a grade crossing while some deliberate freight train camped in front of him will feel a glow of fellow-feeling for this Jerseyite who took matters into his own hands.

THE SOLID SOUTH AGAIN.

The result of the North Carolina primary evidently indicates that the Solid South is apt to be with us for some time yet in presidential years, despite the results of 1928.

Party loyalty is still accounted a virtue there, as Senator Simmons learns. Quite obviously, those who were anticipating a new era for the Republicans in the Tar Heel state will have to revise their notions.

The last presidential election serves notice that there are one or two issues which can make the southern Democracy mark Republican ballots. But when those issues aren't present, anyone who looks for Republican victories below the Mason-Dixon line is simply deluding himself.

THE G. A. R. AND THE LEGION.

Illinois G. A. R. veterans held a state encampment at Rock Island the other day—and only 76 registered delegates attended.

Items of this sort are getting common—all too common—but they never fail to stir our interest. Time was when a state encampment of the G. A. R. meant big crowds, long parades, tumultuous conventions, lots of excitement. But now; 76 bearded old men are all that can attend!

You can get the contrast best, perhaps, by contrasting this G. A. R. convention with the ordinary American Legion gathering. As the Legionnaires are now, so the Civil War veterans were a generation ago; and as the Civil War men are today, so these robust, energetic young Legionnaires will be a generation hence.

A DANGEROUS SPORT.

The average man, whose experience with motorboats is limited to those comfortable picnic-party craft that chug along placidly at about 12 miles an hour, may find it hard to understand how Major Segrave could be fatally injured when his speedboat capsized during a trial run.

A plunge into the water from an ordinary boat means nothing more than a wetting. But a boat traveling a high speed is a risky proposition. Falling into the water from a boat going better than 60 miles an hour is as injurious as falling on a concrete pavement at that speed.

Major Segrave's boat was zipping along at more than 100 miles an hour when it overturned. Driving a boat at that clip is quite as dangerous as racing in an automobile. The likeable tragic death emphasizes the fact.

SAILORS AND MARINES.

The tragedy that followed the collision of the liner Fairfax with the oil tanker Pinthis is an old story by now; but there is one little angle of the thing that is worth remembering, even so.

Amid all the charges of panic, inefficiency and cowardice that gave the story such an ugly tinge, one thing stood out in bright colors—the cool, unrattled way in which a handful of U. S. navy and marine corps enlisted men, on the Fairfax as passengers, worked to save their fellow passengers and bring order out of chaos. Sailors and marines, they worked side by side to save lives and survivors unite in paying high tribute to the job they did.

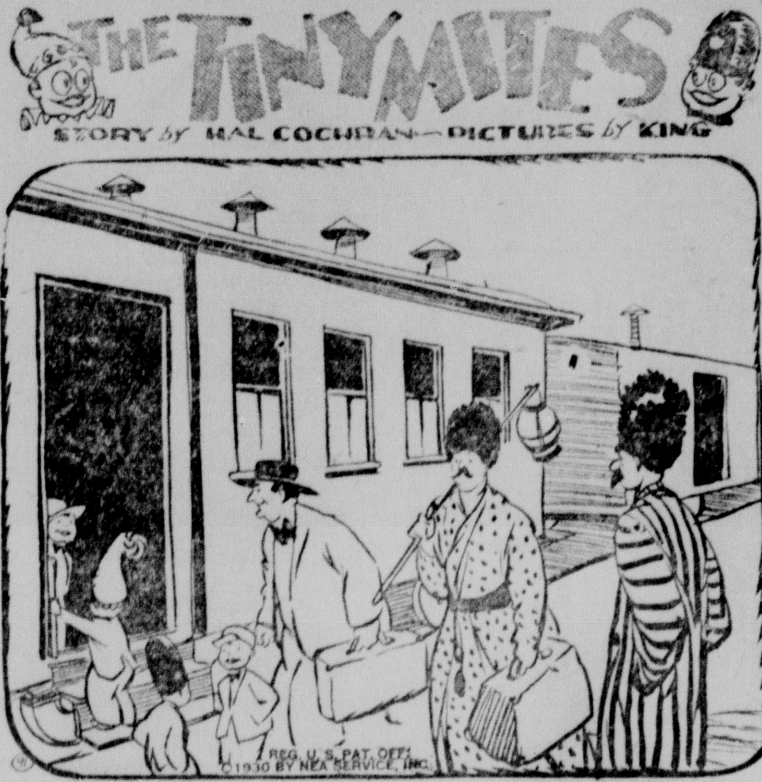

All of which, of course, is just another testimonial—though none is needed—to the high calibre of the enlisted men in these two branches of Uncle Sam's military service.

Allan Hoover, who has taken a summer job in a radiator factory, is reported to be "eager to begin work." In fact he's all steamed up over it.

The Atlanta Negro who was given 10 days for stealing a ham probably considered that the unkindest cut of all.

"Space," says Einstein, "is eating up matters." Looking for parking space does have that effect on gray matter.

Envy the outfielder who can occasionally take a high ball. Today's simile: As effective as an anti-trust law.

The man who drove the hay cart said, "My home is not so far ahead. That's where I'm going to stop. Where will you Timies go from there? We're pretty far from town right now. I guess, though, you'll get back somehow. 'Twill do you lots of good to walk out in the open air."

"Well, I don't know!" wee Clowney cried. "The walking stunt we've often tried, and I know I'll get all tired out. Oh, my, what can we do? When do you drive to town again? I s'pose you go there now and then. If it is soon, we all can wait and then ride back with you."

"Not till tomorrow," said the man. "But, even so, I guess you can stay overnight right at my home. You're welcome as can be. I have a barn that's filled with hay where you can sleep. What do you say? There's not a thing to harm you and it's quite all right with me."

The Travel Man then broke right in and said, "I guess this bunch has been around enough for one long day. I like your plan real well. I'll gladly pay for all our board." "Hurrah! Hurrah!" the Timies roared. We're going to sleep in his big barn. Oh, gee, that will be swell!"

So, after supper they all went up in the big hay loft, intent on getting in a night of sleep before another day. Each one of them slept very sound. The morning found them running round. Soch they were bound for Moscow. They enjoyed it all the way.

When they were at their journey's end the Travel Man exclaimed, "Now lend an ear and listen to my plan. Odessa is the place where we will next look all around." Soon, for Odessa they were bound. The Timies were pleased. A smile broke out on each one's face.

(The Timies visit a queer toynish in the next story.)

YOSEMITE VALLEY GRANT

On June 30, 1864, the Yosemite Valley was passed to California by an act of Congress under the condition that it be kept open as a national park. In 1890 the Yosemite National Park, including the valley, was established by an act of Congress, and 15 years later the original reservation was ceded back to the government by the state.

The park, embracing an area of 112 square miles, contains some of the most magnificent scenery in America. The celebrated big Sequoia trees, the largest of which is 204 feet in height and 29½ feet in diameter, are in this region.

Besides the trees, the park contains, as John Muir, explorer, beautifully writes: "the headwaters of the Tuolumne and Merced rivers, two of the most songful streams in the world; innumerable lakes and waterfalls and smooth, silky lawns; the noblest forests, the loftiest granite domes, the deepest ice-sculptured canyons, the brightest crystalline pavements, and snowy mountains arrayed in open ranks, and spiny pinnacled groups partially separated by tremendous canyons and amphitheaters; gardens or their sunny brows, avalanches thundering down their long white slopes, cataraacts roaring gray and foaming in the crooked rugged gorges, and glaciers working in silence, slowly completing their sculptures; newborn lakes at their feet, blue and green, free or encumbered with drifting icebergs like miniature Arctic Oceans, shining, sparkling, calm as stars."

Former Slave, 112, Died In The West

Canon City, Colo., June 28.—(UP)—More than a century of life, including 40 years of slavery, was ended here today for Jim Kyle, Negro, 112, by death.

Kyle came to Canon City in 1885 as personal servant of the late Captain B. F. Rockefeller, in whose family he served for 70 years.

The aged Negro declared at one time that he never could tell where he was born or the exact date. In 1903 Rockefeller made an extensive investigation of Jim's age and established with reasonable accuracy that he then was 85.

During the last 10 years Kyle was an invalid.

PITCHERS' DUEL GOES TO PETTY OF INDEPENDENTS

Dixon Team Defeated the U. S. Royals of Polo 2 to 0 Sunday

The Dixon Independents emerged the victors in their Sunday game played against the U. S. Royals of Polo, the final count being 2 to 0. It was a pitching duel from start to finish. The Independents collected only four hits off Burns while Petty allowed but two, which came in one inning. After the second inning, only 21 men faced Petty, the Royals being retired in successive order. Polo succeeded in placing runners on first and second in the opening two innings, but none after.

Dixon scored one run in the first on a single by Rink, a sacrifice fly by Bill Hargrave and a double off Steve Skelton's bat, which cleared the railroad tracks in right field and should have been a homer, but the umpire ruled a two bagger. It was the longest hit that has been made on the Independent field.

In the third frame, the Independents scored their second run when Rink beat out a bunt, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Gunn's infield hit.

The Chicago Union Giants, the oldest colored team in the middle west, now on the forty-fourth season, will oppose the Independents on the local field Friday, July 4.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

WALTON'S FISHING TACKLE

When a man looks over the large assortment of fishing equipment now on the market, and compares it with that used by the ancient Izaak Walton he stops to wonder what the fishing game is coming to.

In old Izaak's day they possessed none of the finer modern products with array of rainbow colors and fancy shapes that are supposed to fool the fish. Just when the use of silk worm gut began we cannot say, but we are ready to bet a frog-harness that Walton never saw any-

Now we have various kinds and colors of gut, both straight and tapered, and some are camouflaged in such a manner that the poor, unsuspecting fish cannot see them.

In fishing lines we have the braided silk, waterproof silk, et cetera. Poor fellow Walton had to get along with horse hair. When our friend Izaak wished to fish he used such a line and for his leader he used a single strand of horse hair filched from the tail of the old grey mare.

We wonder whether some of our present day anglers could make good with the tackle of those pioneer days.

just as much as the angler of today. "Love quietness and angling" is an ancient slogan—but we feel that it is still in vogue today, even though the equipment used differs much from Walton's crude outfit.

Baseball Gossip

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

A somewhat crippled Cub team, lacking Rogers Hornsby and occasionally a few other regulars, has been battling its way upward through the National League and finally has wrested first place from the Brooklyn Robins. The Cubs have refused to be downed, and even losing the first game of their series to the Robins failed to daunt them. They came back to win the next three, finally capturing the league lead yesterday by beating Brooklyn, 5 to 1.

The Cubs now have won 11 of their last 13 games, starting when they played their last game in New York before returning home for a long stand. These victories have placed them a full game ahead of the Robins. Their lead is only nine percentage points, due to the fact that they have played four more games than the Robins. In addition they set a record for attendance in the series with Brooklyn, drawing 47,000 fans yesterday to bring the total of 140,000 for the series.

Brooklyn made it a sad celebration of Manager Wilbert Robinson's 66th birthday by getting only seven hits off Charlie Root and failing to take advantage of the few opportunities the Cubs offered. Chicago got to Hollis Thurston in the fourth for three runs to win the game.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves had almost as much cause for rejoicing as the Cubs yesterday although they could not alter the standing. The Cards picked up two full games on the New York Giants, winding up only one game out of third place, by winning a pair of close decisions. The scores were 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. Sylvester Johnson and Bill Hallahan held the Giants to a total of eleven hits in the two games. The Braves likewise won both ends of a double header from the Cincinnati Reds. They took the first 4 to 3 and slugged out a 10 to 3 triumph in the second.

In the American League, the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns registered the big gains as the Yankees downed the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 6, and St. Louis trounced Washington, 6 to 3. The Yanks, benefitting by the power of Charley Ruffing, gained a tie with Washington for second place and the Browns tied Detroit for fifth, each gaining a game on its rival.

Ruffing finished the game for the Yanks and scored the deciding run himself to make it six straight victories since he came to New York. The Browns had five extra base hits and as many singles behind the ef-

Roadwork and hikes will occupy the attention of Mandell during most of this week. He expects to do his first boxing next Sunday.

Chicago—The Brooklyn Robins lost first place in the National League during the four-game series just ended against the Chicago Cubs, but the Flatbush owners found consolation today in looking over the attendance figures for the games. More than 110,000 persons paid their way through the turn-stiles to see the four games, and the Robins receive a percentage from each paid admission. The attendance was close to a record for Wrigley Field for any one series.

Upwards of 32,000 women took advantage of "Ladies Day" last Friday, placing the estimated total attendance for the four games at 42,000.

Arlington Season Inaugurated Today

Chicago, June 30.—(UP)—The mid-west's fastest race horses, and many prominent entries from the east and south, were gathered here today for the opening of the Arlington Park Jockey Club's 30-day season.

Seven races, each of them containing several nationally known horses, were included on today's opening card at Arlington, one of America's most pretentious racing plants. Mistep divided honors for the favorite position with such horses as Brown Wisdom, Silverdale and My Dandy in the $7,500 Inaugural.

Two secondary features—the Chicagoan Purse and an allowance dash at six furlongs—also attracted a star entry list.

An Old Relic Modernized Into $16,800 Apartment

INCOME JUMPS 733% WITH MODERNIZATION
PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS TO INVESTOR

The property owner who doubts the certain returns in property values which come with modernization of the structure may study the history of a modernization project in Elmira, New York, with profit.

Here an old worn-out 14-room house, constructed back in 1860, was purchased and entirely remodeled and modernized at an expense of some $10,000. The original house was sold on the market for $6000—a low sum in consideration of the location of the property and the sturdy condition of the timbers. After modernization the property had a definite property value of $16,800.

Income Increases
This increase in property value was largely due to the investment of the modernization costs in the house. Yet it must not be overlooked that this value is more than theoretical; it is actual, for the house was later sold for that sum.

The important thing to consider is the income producing value of the house was occupied by two families who rented the place for a paltry $30.00 monthly. With modernization the three apartments which resulted were rented for a total monthly sum of $220. Here is an income increase of 733%—no mean figure it must be admitted.

The two views of the house illustrate the changes that come with modernization, but necessarily they do not show what changes were made on that interior.

The illustration at the bottom shows the original house. Note the slight wing at the right. This was extended sufficient to make a bath and two rooms on the upper floor and three rooms on the first, thus providing a five room apartment. The door to this apartment is at the right by itself.

Since three rooms were added by the enlarging of this wing and two rooms were taken from the original fourteen, to make the complete five room apartment, twelve rooms were left from the original layout. These twelve rooms were divided, six to a floor, making two six-room apartments.

The large front entrance was slightly enlarged and two doors installed. A partition was run through the old hall, alongside the staircase, so that now each entrance is separate from the other.

An oil heater in the basement now provides heat for all three apartments. Each apartment has its own plumbing and is complete in itself.

Interesting as the modernizing of the interior may be the change in the exterior lines of the old house are also of importance. The roof lines at the right are brought down in a graceful sweep. A wide dormer was also constructed to enclose the two upper rooms of the five room apartment in this section of the building.

The exterior was covered with a coat of gray shingles and the trim has been painted white. Shingles were used for the siding because the owner believed that they provided insulating value, thus reducing the amount of fuel to be consumed in winter weather. Also shingles need new paint at longer intervals, another point of economy with a large house. The long sweep of the extended roof line has done much to reduce the apparent height of the structure. Before modernizing, it looked lofty and ungainly. Today it is a friendly homey, intimate structure, a decided improvement to the neighborhood.

MODERNIZE SASH
CHAINS ALSO; STEEL
CHAINS ARE DURABLE

When modernizing the home the owner will want to make certain that the sash chains are also up-to-date. The latest homes are being equipped with steel sash chains that have certain definite advantages over the older cord types.

Steel sash chains are long lived, lasting as long as the sash itself. They will not stretch, fray or weaken.

BUILT-IN IRONING BOARDS MAKE WORK EASY

A built-in ironing board is one of the latest contrivances that make the work of the housewife easier. These boards are designed to fit in a recess in the wall of the kitchen when not in use. When open they are firm and at a height suitable for easy, comfortable work. There are a variety of models on the markets and detailed information may be secured from the local lumber dealer.

This handsome shingle covered residence contains three apartments of five and six rooms with a monthly income of $220. Previously the entire monthly income from this property was $30. Modernizing pays big returns on the investment.

ICING DOORS FACILITATE THE DELIVERY OF ICE

One of the big arguments of the electrical refrigeration agents is that with this type of refrigeration no ice man tracks dirt into the kitchen. Neither is it necessary for the housewife to remain at home to let the ice man in with his delivery.

The home owner who prefers natural ice—and there are many who have good reasons for so doing—will find that by the addition of an icing door and a new refrigerator they can still use the ice they desire and at the same time eliminate the bother of the ice man.

Refrigerators with a side door through which the ice may be placed may be secured from any dealer in refrigerators. It is best to purchase this new refrigerator at the same time the icing door is installed so that the two will be suitable for each other. The icing door is placed in the side wall of the house at a point so that when this door is opened the side door or rear door of the refrigerator is revealed. The refrigerator door is opened, the ice inserted and both doors closed. Most of the icing doors use a standard key which is carried constantly by the ice man so that he alone may open the icing door.

The newest refrigerators are well insulated and the interior of the box is maintained at a temperature ranging from 42 to 47 degrees—just the range indicated by engineers and scientists as being the most desirable for the preservation of foods.

The lining of the interior of the refrigerator should be constructed of a one-piece porcelain so that it will be absolutely sanitary. The one-piece lining eliminates cracks and crevices in which moisture and food may lodge.

Here is the old worn-out house before it was modernized into the handsome building shown above.

NEED EXTRA ROOM?
FINISH OFF THE ATTIC
CAN BE DONE AT SMALL EXPENSE

Do you need additional room in your house? Is it becoming cramped and crowded? You can have that extra space at small cost if your house is constructed similar to the average home.

Up in the attic is plenty of space for several rooms. Often it is not necessary to pierce the roof with a dormer window or two. All that is necessary is to finish off the floor, ceiling and walls.

Occasionally the home owner finds it necessary to raise the room a few feet and construct new rooms under this portion of the house.

Before proceeding with this work make a plan of the attic, drawing in as carefully as possible the various dimensions. Next, estimate the ceiling heights. Then draw in very accurately the proposed rooms, indicating with pencil on the floor if it is complete where walls are to be. This will aid in giving a better conception of the area of each room and can more easily determine if each room is large enough for practical living purposes.

At the top of the stairs a small hall will doubtless be situated with doors leading to one or two rooms that comprise the proposed third floor portion of the house.

Dormer windows may be necessary to give plenty of light and air. Do not go sparingly on this feature for proper ventilation is important.

Insulate Roof
When finishing off the attic make certain that the roof is well insulated. Good insulation provides well heated rooms in winter and insures cool quarters in summer. Fuel is saved by insulation for the great heat loss of the average house occurs through the roof. Use an approved brand in insulation and plaster over it. The side walls of the rooms may be insulated in the same way. The floors should be finished similar to those on the lower, hard wood being preferable.

The attic rooms may be fitted up as bed rooms, lounging rooms, dens or play rooms. To the small house they may contribute important extra space which may pay for their finishing many times over.

LEGIONNAIRES OF DISTRICT IN BIG CONVENTION

Rochelle Entertained Ex-service Men And Auxiliary Saturday

Rochelle—Mrs. William Bouchard, of Rochelle, was elected president of the Thirtieth district American Legion Auxiliary and John Nelson, also of Rochelle, was re-elected commander of the Thirtieth district Legionnaires at their convention here Saturday.

Five bands and four drum and bugle corps participated in the huge parade which was a feature of the afternoon session. In the drum corps competition Freeport post corps won the $200 first place prize money. Moline won $125 for second place. Rockford corps won $75 for third place and the DeKalb drum corps won fourth place.

Led by U. S. Deputy Marshal Ben Berve, marshal of the day, and a motorcycle escort, the parade proceeded through Rochelle following the Lincoln highway. The corps passed before the reviewing stand where they were judged and paid homage to the honored guests of the day.

Judges in the drum and bugle corps competition were Major Tom Fox, commandant of the University of Wisconsin E. O. T. C. Corps, head judge; Sgt. C. C. Mayberry, Dixon, and Capt. Sherwood Dixon, of Dixon, judges of general marching ability; and Capt. Charles Townsend, Sycamore, and Maj. William H. Morley, Sycamore, judges of general appearance.

Officers of the 13th district elected, besides Commander Nelson, were: George Spangler, Franklin Grove, vice commander; Earl Engleking, Savanna, chaplain; and Harry Stauffer, Mt. Morris, sergeant-at-arms.

Sterling Auxiliary Wins.
Officers of the district auxiliary elected besides President Bouchard were Mrs. Joyce Wood, Byron, historian; and Mrs. Mary Schmucker, Dixon, chaplain. Mrs. Bouchard will appoint the secretary and the treasurer.

Sterling post auxiliary won the cup for the best yearly report, Morrison post auxiliary won the gavel for the biggest gain over 100 percent in membership, and Franklin Grove auxiliary won a gold piece for going over the 200 mark in membership.

Mrs. Rhea Wright, Sterling, retiring district president, was elected delegate to the national convention in Boston, Mass., in October and Mrs. Etta Eklund, also of Sterling, was named alternate to the convention.

No convention place was selected for 1931, this business being left up to the district executive committee. It is understood that Freeport Legionnaires will make a concerted bid for the meeting, and the award will in all probability be made to that city, Frank Sell, Oregon, chairman of the committee on conventions, said.

Post Citations.
Citations for attaining 100 percent membership were given Savanna, Galena, Ashton, Lanark, Shannou, Stockton, Amboy, Warren, Rochelle, Milledgeville, Tampico, Winslow, Compton, Hanover, Elizabeth, and Chadwick.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Dick Marmon, who recently drove a stock automobile for 101 hours without stopping, as an advertising stunt for a Rochelle and Sycamore automobile dealer, is in jail at Ottawa. He was arrested after an Ottawa dealer said that Marmon was planning to leave town with an automobile on which but one payment had been made.

Dick Marmon is the name the driver uses but it is learned that his correct name is Irwin Heim. Marmon had made arrangements to drive a stock car for a DeKalb dealer sometime in July, but his arrest will no doubt cause a change in plans. Marmon is at present awaiting the action of the LaSalle county grand jury.

Wix Garner, golf pro at the Kishwaukee country club, DeKalb, has recently made arrangements to give weekly instruction lessons at Rochelle. Wix started Tuesday, giving instruction to a class of about eight. The DeKalb pro is making plans to be in Rochelle every Tuesday, continuing the lessons throughout the summer months. The classes in the future will be even larger and it is expected that some twenty Rochelle golfers will take advantage of this opportunity.

Garner has arranged with the Barker & Sullivan drug store to take care of his book-ings for the Rochelle class.

Mrs. Trumbull, of Monmouth, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bryant Braiden and family.

Relatives in this vicinity received a message Tuesday morning stating that Mrs. Helen M. Haselton had passed away early Tuesday morning at her home as Eustis, Fla. Funeral services were held from her home and interment made beside her husband in the cemetery near Eustis.

Helen M. Curtis was born September 29, 1843, and spent her early life in the state of Vermont. Her marriage to Richard Haselton took place Nov. 11, 1867. Mr. Haselton died December 15, 1902. Surviving are D. C. Haselton, Rockford; D. T. Haselton, Peetz, Colo.; Mrs. Clymene Burgert, Tampa, Fla.; L. Guy, of Kings, and Thomas Stinson, of Eustis, Fla.; also ten grandchildren, including Mere, Bruce, Helen and Louise Haselton of this city, and nine great-grandchildren. She is also survived by one brother, Truman Curtis of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Haselton were among the early settlers of White Rock township and their large farm located three miles west of Kings was their home for years. Later Mr. and Mrs. Haselton began to spend their winters in Florida, finally resulting in their purchasing a home and locating there.

Joseph Unger, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Unger, formerly of this city, but now of DeKalb, and Miss Bertie Rossman of Sycamore, were united in marriage at Geneva Tuesday afternoon. The groom is associated with his father in the shoe business in DeKalb and the bride has been employed at the Anaconda Wire Works since her graduation from the Sycamore high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the DeKalb high school.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Leone Gardner, granddaughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Clark of North Lincoln highway, and Henry Pennock Clay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clay of Massillon, Ohio, took place at the Clark home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Frank A. Campbell officiated. Only immediate relatives besides Mrs. Campbell, were present. The house was decorated with garden flowers and the bride wore a wedding dress of flowered chiffon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Gardner of Bradley, Mich., but has lived in this city nearly all her life. She is a graduate of the Rochelle township high school, being a member of the class of 1923. She also attended the DeKalb Normal and Brown's Business College at Sterling. For the last few months she has been employed in the office of the Dexter Stocking Co. as bookkeeper.

Mr. Clay graduated from the Michigan State College at Lansing, Mich., last year and has accepted a position with the General Electric Company of Schenectady, N. Y.

Following a wedding trip to Michigan and Ohio Mr. and Mrs. Clay will reside in Schenectady.

Miss Helen Thorp entertained sixteen young lady friends at bridge at her home on Eleventh street, on Friday evening. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Jack Schofield of St. Louis and Mrs. Orlo Sherwood of Rochelle. Guest prizes were given to Misses Irma and Grace Wedler who sail for Europe on July 4th. Other out-of-town guests included Mrs. Evan Drummond of Milwaukee, formerly Miss Margaret Schade of Ashton. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Thorpe leaves Monday in a special car from Chicago with sixty girls between the ages of 7 and 9, for Green Lake, Wisconsin, where she will be counselor at the House of Three Bears camp, all summer.

Mrs. Edward O'ner entertained a group of friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis, Wednesday, at bridge. The out-of-town guests included John P. Lahey and the Misses Mildred Jacobson, Helen Joyce and Mary Lahey, of Dixon, and Mrs. William Sowles, of Sterling.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Huntley of Chama on Monday, June 23. The baby has been named Margene and arrived on the birthday anniversary of her father. Miss Augusta Jahn, a trained nurse, is in attendance.

Mrs. Jack Schofield of St. Louis, who will be remembered as Helen Shevland, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shevland. Mr. Schofield will join his wife here next week for a week after which Mrs. Schofield will return to St. Louis with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rochschild and son left Tuesday for New York City, where they will spend a few months. They came to Rochelle from Florida and have been occupying the Mrs. Mabel Barker apartments for the past two months and visiting Mrs. Rochschild's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lazier.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers entertained their dinner club at their home Thursday evening.

William W. May, executive for Montgomery Ward & Co., New York City, will spend the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Ida May.

Hoover Honors Buchanan's Memory

"He played his part with a dignity and courage that only now are receiving the recognition they deserve." That was the tribute of the present Chief Executive to a past Chief Executive when, as pictured above, President Hoover faced a battery of microphones at the unveiling of a statue to James Buchanan in Meridian Hill Park, Washington. He accepted for the nation the monument which was made possible in the will of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, an orphan niece of the bachelor President.

Risko Vs Griffiths Bout Features Week

New York, June 30 (AP)—Johnny Risko, veteran boxer from Cleveland, gets another chance to "spoil" a heavyweight contender this week.

Johnny meets Tuffy Griffiths, lightly touted Sioux City, Ia., puncher in the ten round feature bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night in the current week's outstanding fight attraction.

Risko may not be going anywhere in particular but he takes an unshakable glee in seeing that none of his rivals do either. Always on the short end, it seems, when he tackles one of the leaders, Risko, more often than not, has slapped cuffs and roughed his way to victory or made his opponent look entirely unimpressive. A veteran as fighters go, Risko has met only one really decisive defeat in recent years, losing on a technical knockout to Max Schmeling here last year. A few weeks ago, Risko slapped Paulino Uzcudun all around the ring in a ten round battle at Detroit. He should give Griffiths an argument all the way.

San Francisco offers a ten round non-titular bout between young Jack Thompson, Negro holder of the welterweight crown and Young Corbett of Fresno, Calif., on Friday. Young Stribling battles Bud Gorman at the Newark, N. J. Velodrome tomorrow night and Primo Carnera takes on Jack McAuliffe of Detroit at South Bend, Ind., Saturday. Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., featherweight, encounters Earl Mastro of Chicago at Detroit tomorrow and Kid Chocolate, Cuban Negro featherweight, takes on Dominick Petrone, of New York, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, on Wednesday.

Three Records Fell At Sterling Sunday

Sterling, Ill., June 30 (AP)—Three track records at the speed bowl were broken yesterday by Gus Schrader, Cedar Rapids, Ia., automobile racer, who won top honors.

Schrader turned a three-quarter mile lap in 36.2 seconds; won the first three mile event in 2:28.2 and the final 12-mile race in 10:42. Prentiss of Denver, Colo., was second in the final. Ralph Kelly of LaFayette, Ind., third and Fay Gardner of Rock Island, Ill., fourth.

GALLANT FOX IS GREATEST MONEY WINNER OF TIME

Two Coming Races Likely to Boost Wins Beyond Zev's

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, June 30 (AP)—His career as a three-year-old unmarred by defeat, William Woodward's Gallant Fox today was $11,500 nearer his goal of surpassing the all-time American money-winning record of $313,639 held by the Great Zev.

Victory in the Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday boosted the Fox's earnings, in less than two years, to $215,230 and at the same time sent him into sixth place, only $34,000 short of the amount won by Man O'War in his 20 victorious jaunts over American turf.

With at least four more big stake races on the program for which Gallant Fox is eligible, the son of Sir Gallahad 3rd may not only pass Zev's mark but become the world's greatest money winner before closing his three-year-old career. Two French thoroughbreds, Ksar and Mon Talisman, won $335,340 and $333,160 respectively, to lead all other horses in total earnings.

The Classic, with its purse of close to $70,000, next beckons the champion and with this race in view he will be shipped to Arlington Park, Chicago, next week. The rich Chicago event is scheduled for July 12.

than any other American thoroughbred. His average of $30,714 in seven triumphs as a juvenile and three year old even exceeds the mark of the sensational high strung which accumulated $153,590 in five races as a two-year-old. Zev won 23 races in compiling his money winning races while it took Exterminator 30 victories in which to earn $282,596.

TEXAN TRIMS CHAMPION IN TENNIS MEET

Great Henri Cochet Is Eliminated by Walter Allison

Wimbledon, England, June 30—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, youthful American Davis Cup tennis player, sprang a sensational upset today by eliminating Henri Cochet, world's tennis champion, in straight sets in the quarter-finals of the British Championships. Allison won at 6-4, 6-3.

Allison's victory came like a bolt from the blue sky. The dashing Texan ranks only seventh in singles among United States players and is considered at his best in doubles. Against the redoubtable Cochet he was expected to be lucky to take a single set.

Cochet, the defending champion, was swept off his feet by the impetuosity of the Austin, Texas, boy's attack while the gallery looked on in astonishment at the biggest upset seen here in many a day.

Allison has been playing the greatest tennis ever, since his arrival in England, but he never reached the heights attained in beating the champion. The blond Texan was given a great ovation by the throng of 15,000 that jammed the center court stands.

It was the first time Cochet had been beaten by an American since 1927 when Bill Tilden defeated him in Davis Cup challenge round and John Hennessey stopped him in the national championship at Forest Hills.

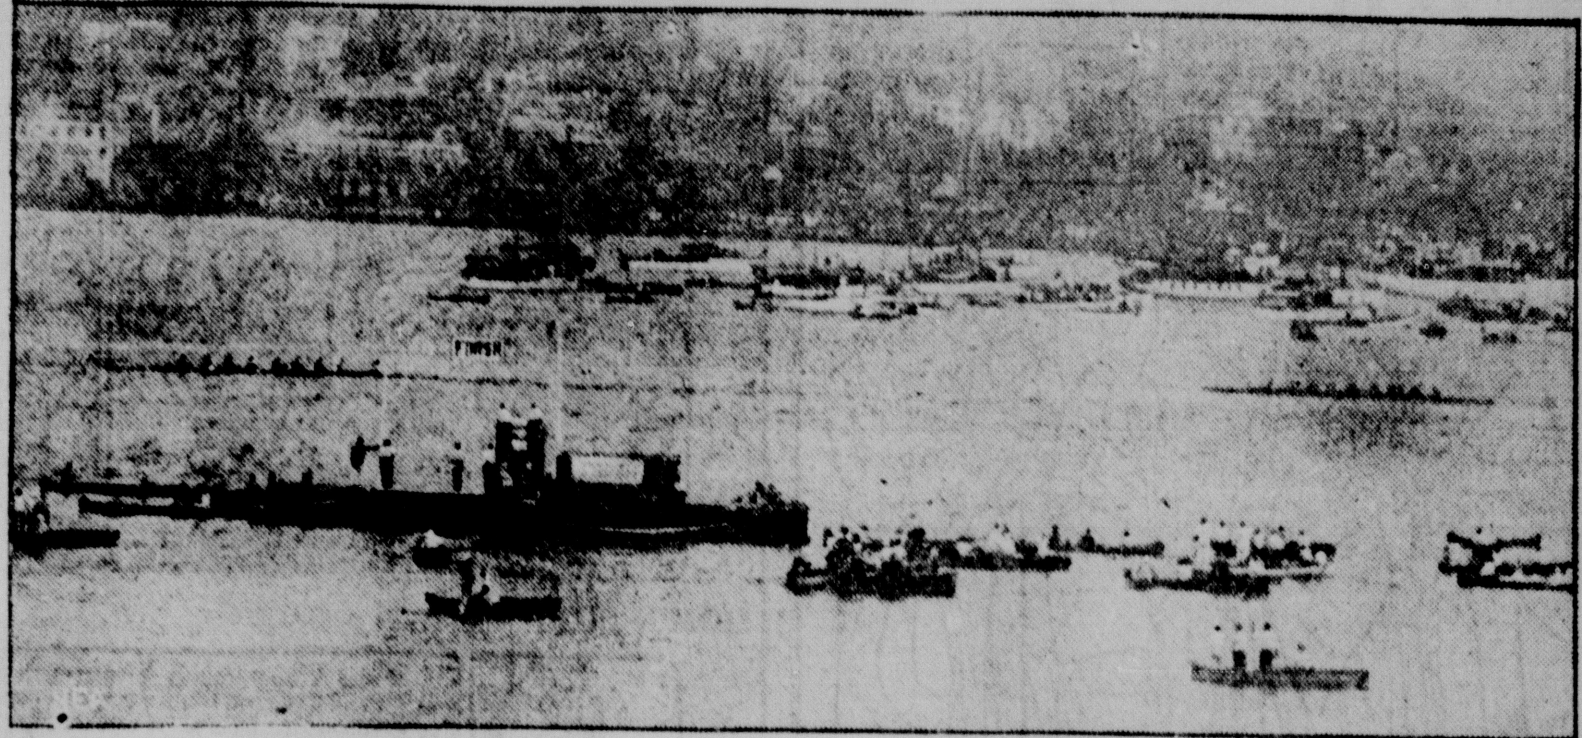

Cochet had been looked upon as virtually unbeatable and the American Davis cup team had had little hope of uncovering a player who could defeat him.

John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., third ranking American player, defeated his countryman, Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, to enter the semi-final round along with Allison.

Bill Tilden forged into the semi-finals along with Allison and Doeg, defeating J. C. Gregory, sturdy English player, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

As Cornell Won Intercollegiate Regatta

It was a bright day for the dark horses at the annual intercollegiate rowing classic at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and this NEA-Dixon Telegraph photo shows how the gallant Cornell crew won by three lengths over Syracuse, at the extreme right. None of the leaders including M. I. T. which finished third, had been a favorite in the regatta. A brisk wind and choppy water on the Hudson slowed the event so that Cornell's time was 21 minutes and 42 seconds. The winners were cheered by 100,000 spectators as they swept to an easy victory over such favorites as the Navy, Columbia and Washington.

Outboard Assn. To Meet This Evening

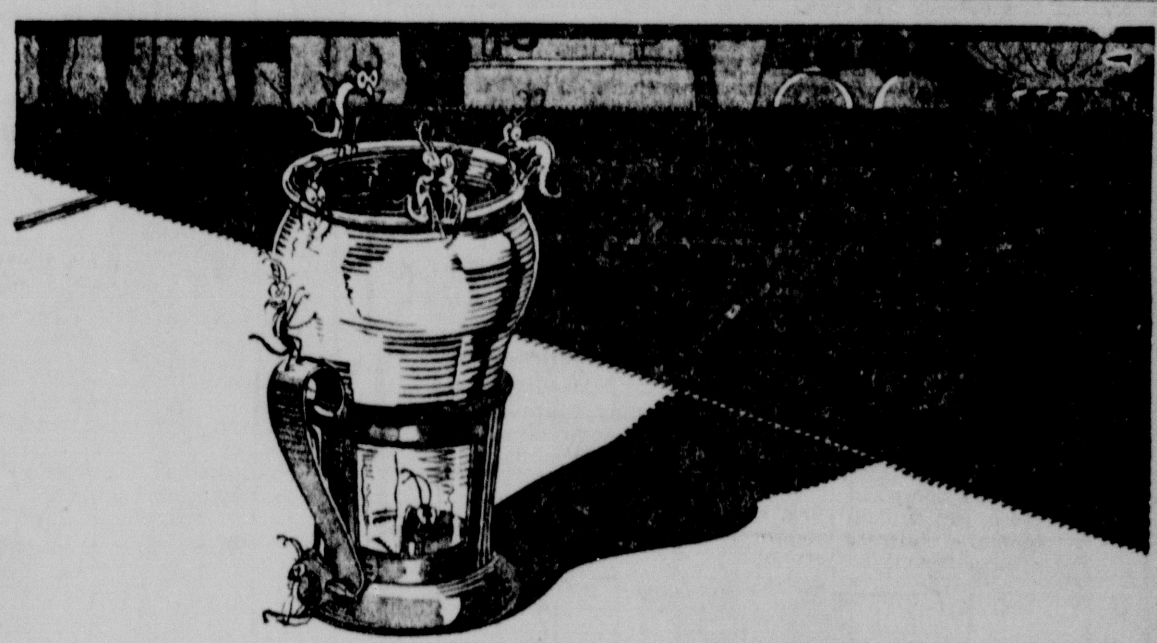

The Dixon-Sterling Outboard Association will meet this evening at 7:30 at the offices of E. M. Graybill, secretary. Final plans for the races to be held at Lowell park Friday, July 4 will be announced together with the list of prizes which are to be awarded the successful contestants. Plans will also be discussed for the entertainment of the central western cruise of the National Canoeing association at Lowell park next Sunday afternoon.

PLANS SPEECH IN CHILE

Ra'eigh, N. C.—(UP)—Dr. E. V. Brooks, president of North Carolina State College, has accepted an invitation of deliver an address at Santiago, Chile, on July 19, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Chilean nitrate of soda mines. His subject will be "Relation of Education to Agricultural Progress in America."

If germs barked—

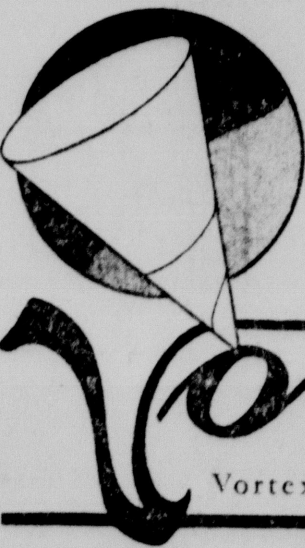

the soda fountain glass would at least growl a little!

If germs did something to warn people of their presence—if they barked, meowed or hissed—there would undoubtedly be far less need for anti-toxins and other kinds of cures. But it just happens that even a glass which appears to be immaculately clean sometimes reveals germ cultures under the piercing lenses of the microscope. Your only way of avoiding them is to avoid the glass in which they may be present.

Of course the soda fountain glass is washed—washed as carefully as you can expect it to be, considering the necessity for handling so many glasses in so little time. But the fact remains that if germs barked, the soda fountain glass would at least occasionally growl.

Why take this chance when it is unnecessary? Why not patronize only those soda fountains that refuse to expose their patrons to unnecessary risks? In other words, why not patronize the fountain that offers the protection of the snowy Vortex Cup—the cup that has never before touched human lips?

The fountains that use this cup have gone to extra expense to protect you. Accordingly, they deserve your undivided support.

DANCING JUDITH

by CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN

COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH GRANT, beautiful artist's model, shares her Greenwich Village apartment with CHUMMY MORLEY, a lovely girl whose mind has been a blank ever since ALAN STEYNE, her lover, disappeared seven years ago. Steyne returns but Chummy fails to recognize him; meanwhile he and Judith fall in love, and he tells Judith that he never loved Chummy and never knew Chummy.

Then Steyne asked in a very quiet voice:

"And would she think you were jealous, Dumont?"

"She knows I am!" The Latin half of poor Bastien got the better of him. "It's torture to me to see her with anybody, Steyne," he went on with a groan. "I can't help it. She brought the brute to the Lemon Grove not long ago, and she danced with me and then went off with him, walking home, he doesn't dance. It will drive me mad if it goes on!"

"That means you love Judy, Dumont?" Steyne's voice was still very quiet.

"Of course I do! And hopelessly!"

"I—I am sorry," Alan said, and he hardly knew whether he meant it or not. At any rate, he could not help liking the young artist for his candor and for his confidence in his friend.

"But even if I did not care for Judy, it would be the same," Dumont went on fiercely. "I could not bear to see any girl mixed up with a man like him. Consider Steyne—an immensely rich man and Judy in a way under an obligation to him. It's horrible—perfectly horrible! I can't stand the thought of it. And Judy—Judy!" He jumped up and began to pace the room. Then, with a great effort, he calmed himself and went on: "You see, Steyne, you might have more influence over her. You wouldn't be carried away by your feelings, as I should."

"I can't promise to do anything, Dumont," Alan said. "Judy would probably resent it from me even more than from you; but perhaps, if I spoke to Clarissa—"

"Oh, utterly useless, my friend! Women don't understand these things. I happen to know that Chummy thinks Gideon merely a plutocratic patron of the arts. If you had only seen his face!"

"I have, Dumont. I saw him once, and I thoroughly agree with you. We must try to influence Judy. What did she say when you spoke to her?"

"Oh, she was all prickles. She accused me of spying on her. Then she said that it was purely a business arrangement, that she was taking up dancing, and that he was advising her."

"Why should she take any notice of me, Dumont?"

"Do you know anything against the man, Dumont?"

"Yes, as a companion for Judy—enough to know that it can't do her any good to be seen about with him. You don't know Judy as I do, Steyne," he went on agitatedly. "She thinks she knows the world inside out. Well, in a way she does. I suppose—worse luck! But she's perfectly innocent where people are concerned. She thinks the best of everybody. She never dreams that anyone would take her in. That's what makes it so difficult."

"Why don't you speak to her?"

"I have, but it's not the slightest use. You see, Judy never would take any notice of me. I thought, if you would speak to her—"

Steyne understood, although Judy had never treated him exactly like that.

AFTER that they talked of other things, and drank and smoked; but there was a feeling of uneasiness in the air that no friendliness could dissipate.

"I'm afraid I've worried you, Steyne," Dumont said rather awkwardly,

Daily Health Talk

SOMETHING ABOUT DEAFNESS

By Joseph P. Kane, M. D.
New York, N. Y.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Did it ever occur to you what it must be like to be absolutely deaf, to be shut off from every sound in the world? Occasionally we become bored with quiet spells in our lives and feel like yelling to break the stillness, but we have no idea of what absolute silence is. During all our waking hours, in the quietest room, or on the most lonely mountain or prairie, our ears are constantly perceiving sounds, and to be entirely deaf is a terrible affliction. But there are thousands who suffer it, and often for reasons that might have been prevented.

Of the children attending institutions for the deaf, almost equal numbers are male and female. About 60 per cent were born deaf and 40 per cent acquired deafness as a result of infectious diseases. Concerning those born deaf I shall only say that a considerable percentage came from families in which there was deafness. But I want to deal particularly with those who became deaf in childhood, for by far the greater number developed it before they had reached their third year. So we must remember that up to five years of age is the most dangerous period, during which the infectious diseases have such a legacy of misery, scarlet fever and measles particularly.

Of 1192 children in one group recently studied meningitis was the cause of deafness in 209, scarlet fever in 100, measles in 97, influenza in 91, infantile paralysis in 37, syphilis in 24 and mumps in 12. In nearly all the meningitis cases and half the scarlet fever cases, the deafness followed without the slightest evidence of discharging ears, so that we know the infection attacked the nerve of hearing direct, causing a toxic inflammation. Measles is less prone to cause a running ear than scarlet fever, but when it does it is as virulent as the worst cases of scarlet fever. Measles can also cause a toxic neuritis of the auditory nerve without any discharge of the ear. Typhoid fever causes deafness without any sign of ear disease except in two cases. The deafness of twenty-four children was caused by fracture of the skull and only one had any running of the ears.

Mumps we do not consider a severe disease at all. It is looked upon as a little hard luck on account of the period of quarantine, or as a joke. But mumps can kill that nerve of hearing like a shot from a gun. There is no pain in the ear or swelling or pus. The destruction of hearing which occurs in connection with mumps is always sudden. It comes out of a clear sky.

Many of these children have had their tonsils and adenoids removed, but the disease that brought on deafness had struck much deeper than anything that could be affected by those glands. Tonsils and adenoids, although a factor in producing deafness, yet hardly cause total loss of hearing.

From this study three things stand out quite clearly. First is the danger to little children under 5 years of age of the infectious fevers. Guard your little one against scarlet fever, measles, mumps, etc., with all the care humanly possible. And if they do contract them, put them to bed and keep them there till all danger is past. Second, about 80 percent of acquired deafness is not associated with discharging ears, which many people expect as a definite danger signal. Third, the suppurating diseases of the middle ear, while often causing a degree of deafness, usually do not go so far as to require a child to be placed in an institution. So although they should be cared for, if they occur, by a physician accustomed to dealing with them, they are not potentially as dangerous as some of the better known diseases which many foolish parents still think "every child should have and get them over with."

HOME LIFE IN ANTARCTICA
WITH THE BYRD EXPEDITIONin the Shadow of the South Pole

WHAT'S the best antidote to surliness when your cigarettes have run out, when the dinner entree is composed of vinegar-soaked seal flesh, when home is an inconceivable distance away and there can be no relief from the situation for two months?

Well, the Byrd expedition found that the best remedy in their particular case was to work a full day every day, to tinker mechanically with anything that needed or could stand tinkering with, to run amathe flight. Each individual was bound to his fellow true enough, by the same symbol that distinguishes a band of convicts, but bound nevertheless. Yet not only in this case was there no stigma, but there was a feeling in many of genuine pride to be linked thus with their fellow adventurers by a common identifying mark.

This feeling of solidarity endured in the face of the most trying developments. Food, as ever in the absence of woman's ministering hand, was an all-important item of four dramatic shows and to speculate about what tomorrow's radio news would be.

Almost all the members of the expedition found a great relief from fretting over their voluntary exile in performing some simple manual work. Laundering their own clothes was one way of relieving the tedium, although most of the expeditionists rebelled at this job while welcoming work in the kitchen. They found it simpler to exhaust their wardrobe's clean linen than to launder the soiled.

Entertainment, as such, was indulged in meagre. Movie shows, theatrical rhindings, monster practical jokes, consumed most of the long winter evenings that were not tied up with the expedition's primary object, the reading of an airplane for the specific and terrible task of flying over the South Pole.

Before the long winter night set in, the entire group lined up, including the Admiral himself, and each man shaved the head of the man in front of him. In the opinion of Willard VanderVeer, one of the expedition's two official cameramen, this was at once one of the funniest and psychologically most stimulating exercises of the whole period spent at the Little America in preparation for

MRS. MARY A. HANES

(Contributed)

Mrs. Mary A. Hanes, for twelve years past a resident of Dixon passed from life at her home on West First Street Tuesday morning at 9:30 following an illness confining her to her bed since May 30.

Mary Ann Teeter was born in Bedford County, Pennsylvania, Dec. 22, 1849, and passed to her reward June 24, 1930, aged 80 years, 6 months and 2 days. In 1862 she came with her parents, Jacob and Elizabeth Teeter, to Ogles County where they resided on a farm until her marriage to Luther Hanes of Oregon, Illinois, June 1, 1876. To this union were born ten children, six sons and four daughters; two sons died in infancy and another son, John, died in 1920. The husband departed this life Oct. 2, 1916.

Those remaining to mourn the loss of the loved mother are: Lester of Polo; Samuel J. of Pine Creek; Mrs. George Lee of Milledgeville; and Bertha, Orpha, Adam and Olive of Dixon; also twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild; two brothers, J. D. Teeter of Flossmoor, Ill.; J. E. Teeter of Polo and Mrs. Elizabeth Coffman of Polo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanes began farming on their farm in Pine Creek township and continued farming until 1916 when they moved to Dixon.

Mrs. Hanes united with the Church of the Brethren at Pine Creek in 1891 and remained faithful to service to her gracious Master until the end. She was a typical Christian.

She's Flyer's Bride-to-Be

"The happiest girl in all Australia" was Mary Powell, above, pretty fiancée of Maj. Charles Kingsford-Smith, when news of his successful trans-Atlantic flight reached her home in Melbourne. But he "mustn't consider" any more air adventures, she says, after their marriage in September. She has won the daring birdman's promise that his Ireland-to-America flight will be his last trans-oceanic air voyage.

mother of much patience and like her loving Lord was always thinking what she could do for others. She patiently bore the affliction of impaired health for a number of years until at last she quietly and peacefully entered her merited rest last Tuesday morning.

I cannot say, and I will not say that she is dead. She is just away. With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand she has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since she lingers there. And you, O, you who the wildest yearn for the old-time step and the glad return, think of her faring on as dear in the love of there as the love of here. Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead, she is just away!
